June in Lviv

Rehabilitation and Prosthetics Center "Superhumans Center"

Teenagers visited the Superhumans rehabilitation center for Heroes who have suffered as a result of military aggression. Our acquaintance started with a conversation about prosthetics, accessibility, and the importance of tolerance towards people with prostheses and injuries. The Superhumans team allowed the children to do everything. The kids of the "SviTy" project organized wheelchair races, assembled prostheses with the prosthetics team, and tried walking with them. The children tested everything on themselves and came to the conclusion that life after injury exists, and there is no need to avoid people with certain limitations. A human always remains a human. This is a new step in building relationships within the country.

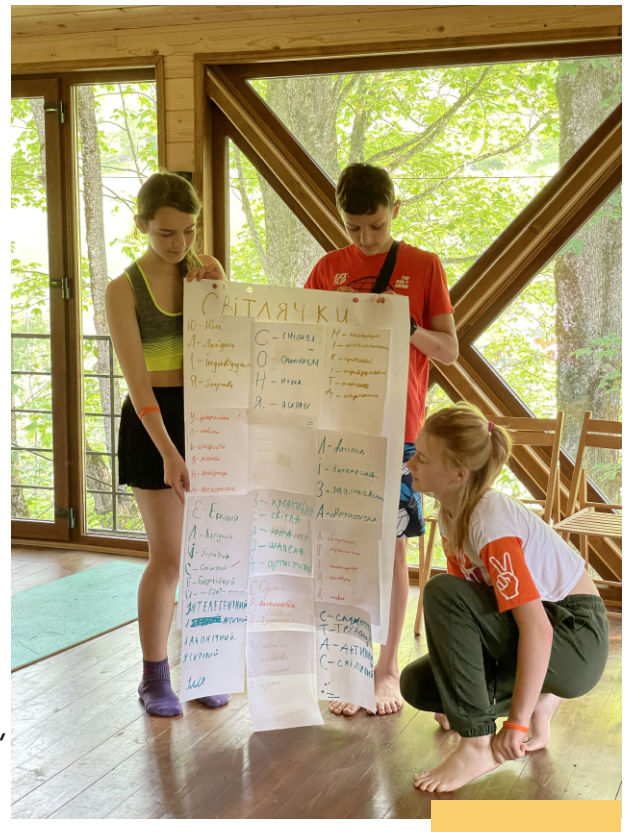

This initiative will continue. A big word of thanks to the entire Superhumans Center team for the invitation and a big salute for everything you do.

Summer camp in the Carpathians, 1st session, June 19-27

Positive emotions are priceless. We held the first camp "SviTy" in the Carpathians for children of the IDPs and military personnel, with the participation of 25 children who are undergoing the "SviTy" program in Lviv, Khmelnytsky, and Cherkasy. The rehabilitation program in the Carpathians included: outdoor sports activities, walks in the forest, communication with a psychologist, English lessons, creative contests, team games, songs by the bonfire, and much more.

All this had a significant result – the children rested, distracted themselves, forgot about their gadgets, made new acquaintances and acquired new skills, and also became more communicative, open, and smiling. Most importantly, everyone made heartwarming memories for life.

"SviTy" film awards

At the beginning of June in Cherkasy, there was a solemn award ceremony for winners of the film contest, who will go to the camp in the Carpathians. There was a real cinema atmosphere with popcorn and Coca-Cola; teenagers watched four films and shared their impressions. The winners are eagerly looking forward to their trip.

The third session of the day camp also took place. Teens had active and eventful days ahead, that included a badminton master class, which was met with immense enjoyment.

June in Khmelnytskyi

Neurography class

During the neurography class, teens immersed themselves in a world of lines, colors, and shapes. Children built harmonious compositions, going through the path of meditation and relaxation. At the same time, during the process, it is necessary to consider certain rules and sequences. It turned out to be quite fun and informative!

Group sessions with a psychologist

To achieve a comfortable level of communication among the teenagers, it is important to immerse them in an atmosphere of trust, ease, and relaxation. During a group session with a psychologist, the group achieves this by using fun exercises, games, working in subgroups, and creative tasks.

Team building in the forest

In Khmelnytsky, children had a wonderful day and created new memories. Team building in the forest added freshness and energy to each participant. Throughout the day, there were many activities and various interesting tasks, while the team spirit and a delicious lunch cooked over an open fire created an extraordinary atmosphere. The children received many positive emotions and had a great time.
